

Memorandum for Mr. Pfeiffer from Mr. Gregory

Oct. 28, 1926

I went to Bernardsville, New Jersey and interviewed Floyd L. Wolfe who said he was a Police Officer of that town and that he and Captain Stricker had worked together on a great many cases. He said Mr. Beekman, the Prosecutor of Somerset County called Captain Stricker to his office and wanted him to do some work on the Hall-Mills case. He knows positively that Captain Stricker went to Somerville by appointment and made finger prints of James Mills. He has seen those finger prints and had a copy in his office (Wolfe). He said he would look for the copy and would call me on the telephone at McCarter & English just as soon as he found them. He was sure that Captain Stricker did not do any other work on the case at that time except making finger prints of James Mills. He also said that Mrs. Stricker had turned over all the papers that her husband had in connection with the case. Wolfe said the feeling in the Community is in favor of Mrs. Hall and her family and he does not look for a conviction.
